SNCA Offers Course in Pervious Concrete Placement

The Sierra Nevada Concrete Association is hosting a concrete technician certification course, provided by the National Ready Mixed Concrete Association, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday, June 24 on the proper installation of pervious concrete.

The City of Reno's Structural Controls Ordinance (March 2009) requires the collection and retention of storm water on-site for new developments. Pervious materials are one way to do the job; allowing rainwater and snowmelt to soak into the ground, not runoff into the river. The installation of pervious concrete in our region will require contractors with certified installers as part of requirements for city-approved projects.
